

Educational Philosophy Statement

Apple St. (Applied Learning Styles)
Cynthia Ulrich Tobias, M.Ed.
Founder and CEO

We believe each person is created with unique and special strengths, abilities and perspectives. Therefore, we are committed to the following:

- ◆ Identifying and building on strengths to produce positive results rather than focusing on limitations;
- ◆ Appreciating the worth and value of every style, recognizing there is no best or smartest style;
- ◆ Honoring individual learning style differences without compromising academic excellence or lowering standards of behavior;
- ◆ Maintaining discipline through love and bottom-line accountability within the framework of each person's design; and
- ◆ Unlocking the potential for success in both children and adults by teaching them...

The Way They Learn.
